Dear Mr. Lovett:

Just a hasty note prior to my departure for South America with General Eisenhower. I hope to be back here August 18th. In the meantime I have here. Your ideas will be incorporated in the overall plan. I hope to contact you just as soon as I return.

Many thanks for your very kind letter.

Sincerely,

Dear Van:

Thank you for your kind note of July 23rd, and your friendly good wishes on my return to private business.

So far I seem merely to have exchanged one confusion for another, and I miss the Air Force and my good friends there far more than is comfortable.

When I was in Washington a few days ago, I tried to reach you but found that you were at some meeting. I hope, therefore, that, on your next trip to these parts, you will let me know in advance as Adele and I would like so much to have you come out to [redacted] I commute by car, so it would be very easy to pick you up at your convenience.
